Published Every Weekday Afternoon.

Subscriptions: One year, $3; one month, 25 cts. single copy, 1 cent.

Members of the Publishers' Press.—The latest telegraphic news from all parts of the world are received by the Daily Times up to the hour of going to press.

Frank E. Langley, Publisher.

Entered at the postoffice at Barre as second class matter.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

This is Old Home Week. Do you recognize it?

The Ithaca, N. Y., woman who drank laudanum, then carbolic acid and finally shot herself twice, deserved to win, and she did.

As church-goers last Sunday the Russian envoys were considerably ahead of the Japanese. Possibly they have more reason for praying.

Peculiar that a man from Texas should become tennis champion of Vermont. The honor may be of more consequence in Texas than it is in Vermont.

The little village of South Pomfret gets a library building, and a former son, who has gained prominence in the West, raises a monument to himself.

With Addison, Caledonia and Orange counties claiming to be the "home" of the Morgan horse, and several other counties about to put in their bids, who is the horse on, anyway?

Kansas spring water was spilled over the bow of the battleship Kansas by Miss Hoch, daughter of the governor of that state. Gov. Bell is not to try to bust any traditions, and will have his daughter sprinkle the usual libation of champagne over the Vermont August 31.

The oldest prisoner, next to his wife, died in the house of correction the other day. And the only relative to mourn his loss was the woman who was in prison with him. The newspaper reports do not give the cause for the imprisonment for the old couple, but the story without that is sufficiently sad.

A new amusement has sprung up in a small suburb of Chicago called "bumping the bumps," and the bumps do not get the enjoyment. That falls to the villagers who have been pestered by the speeding of automobiles and who have settled the trouble by raising the sidewalks so that the scorchers are thrown high in the air. The villagers gather at the bumps and when the scorchers light after "bumping the bumps" the remains are picked up and fined for speeding. Enjoyable as the sport may be for the onlookers, we can scarcely warrant it to be a lasting one.

Those who scoff at Newport society foibles will stop long enough to praise the latest fad which has been undertaken there—a tuberculosis-fete. The wealthy residents there held a festival, the proceeds of which were to go toward combating this dread disease. There were the usual booths, etc., to draw out the coppers and dimes, and besides several wealthy people wrote large checks to help "defray the expenses" of the festival. Whoever got Newport society headed toward something really worth while is deserving of something more than a leather medal.

Unwilling Victim.
"Darn this paternalism!" grumbled the man in the loud check suit, as the officer sternly warned him not to go on board the floating poolroom. "After a while they won't let a man have a chance to lose any money at all in this town!"—Chicago Tribune.

JINGLES AND JESTS.

Staving Him Off.

Meek—I say, old chap, I'm in shocking luck. I want money badly, and haven't the least idea where I can get it.

Beek—Well, I'm glad of that. I thought perhaps you had an idea you could borrow from me!—London Answers.

Rushed Him.

Pearl—They say that marriage between Miss Olde and Reggy Sapp was love at first sight.

Ruby—Yes, she didn't give him time to resort to "second sight" before she made him marry her. He was going to a medium to find out her age.—Chicago News.

Overshot the Mark.

Mrs. Housekeep—I don't believe you ever went to work.

Wearly Willie—Oh, honest, lady, many's the time. But I'm such a strenuous fellow that every time I start to go to work I go clean past it.—Philadelphia Press.

Had a Nightmare.

When one is troubled by a nightmare, it is an unspeakable relief to wake up and find that it was only a dream. But the reverse experience befell a lady in the Rue du Port, Saint-Denis, near Paris. The lady, Mme. Boivin, lived by herself, and early on the morning of March 2 last her neighbors, alarmed by her cries, ran to her assistance. "I have just had a horrible nightmare," she explained. "I dreamed that burglars entered the house and nearly strangled me, and I was so frightened that I screamed for help." The fact was that Mme. Boivin was recounting not a dream, but the reality. Burglars had entered the house, they had attempted to strangle her, and they had so nearly succeeded that she fainted, and they, thinking her dead, left her after ransacking the house. When the lady regained her senses she thought it was a dream but she soon realized that it had been a frightful reality, and yesterday the three scoundrels responsible for her terrible nightmare were sentenced respectively to seven years' imprisonment and to fifteen and twenty years' hard labor.—Paris correspondent in London Globe.

PEN, CHISEL AND BRUSH.

Tolstol spends much of his time in roaming through the woods.

Leonid Andreyev is a new Russian author whose work is taking its place alongside that of Gorky in popularity.

Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, has the finest collection of pheasants and tropical birds in the world as well as four Arabian horses which formerly belonged to the sultan of Turkey.

Waldo Story, the Boston-London sculptor, who has just been given the commission to execute a statue of the late Sir William Vernon-Harcourt for the English house of commons, will be the first American sculptor to design a statue for that famous hall.

Abbott Graves, the famous painter, has returned to his home in Kennebunkport, Me., after an absence of three years in Europe. Mr. Graves received many high honors in Paris, and his home is full of art treasures, many of which he brought from abroad.

CHURCH AND CLERGY.

No Protestant Episcopal church may be consecrated until it is free from debt.

Earl Cranston, bishop of the Methodist church in the state of Washington, is a former far eastern missionary and is regarded as an authority on things Chinese and Japanese.

Bishop Charles C. Grafton, one of the acknowledged leaders in the "high" church doctrines of the Episcopal religion, has established a monastery for members of the Benedictine order of Fond du Lac, Wis.

Rev. Dr. Daniel March of Woburn, Mass., recently celebrated his eighty-ninth birthday. He has been an ordained minister for sixty years. As a writer of works on travel and religious topics Dr. March has won a reputation as a scholar in nearly every civilized country.

KILLED IN UPPER ROOM.

A Peculiar Murder in an Indiana Farm House.

Rushville, Ind., August 15.—The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Burkhardt, living five miles south of this city, appeared at the farmhouse of neighbors yesterday, informed them that Norman Cook, a farmhand, was at the Burkhardt home dead, and asked them to go to the house with him. When they arrived Cook was found in Mrs. Burkhardt's bedroom with five bullet wounds in his body and his throat cut from ear to ear.

When inquiry was made regarding the tragedy, Mrs. Burkhardt said that she had gone to her room upstairs late in the evening, and as she entered Cook was in the room, having entered without the knowledge of any of the family. He grabbed her as she entered the door and pulled her around the room. Before starting to her room, Mrs. Burkhardt says, she picked up a .32-caliber revolver, and when Cook grabbed her she is alleged to have fired five shots at him, three of them taking effect. She then went downstairs to get a .38-caliber revolver, and when she returned upstairs she fired two shots from that into his body, it is alleged. Then his throat was cut with a razor.

When Mrs. Burkhardt was questioned further she declared, it is alleged, that her husband had had nothing to do with the shooting, but said he was in a room downstairs all the time. He made no attempt to interfere until she returned with the .38-caliber revolver, when he took the weapons from her and hid them in the barn. She told her story in a straightforward way and without emotion.

AND NOW FOR REPEAL.

Practically Unanimous Vote for Norway's Independence.

Christiana, Norway, Aug. 15.—The returns from the national referendum on the dissolution of the union show that out of 321,338 votes cast only 181 are against the dissolution.

The Storting has been summoned to meet Aug. 21 to take the next step toward the repeal of the act of union in agreement with Sweden.

BEEF, IRON AND WINE.

Beef, Iron and Wine is such an old remedy that we hardly need to mention what it is good for—everybody knows that—but few people realize that Beef, Iron and Wine is not all alike and that some mixtures called by that name are positively worthless as a medicine.

That which we make contains the proper amount of iron in its most easily assimilated form, strengthening beef extract of the best quality and the finest old imported wine. This preparation is reconstructive and a trial of one bottle will demonstrate its value.

MARSHFIELD.

Mrs. Flora Bliss is visiting Mrs. Scott in East Calais this week.

Benjamin Darling of Peacham was in town on business Saturday.

C. H. Northrop and son were in Montpelier on business Tuesday.

A crowd from this town attended the ball game at Barre last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Martin visited friends in the city of Barre three days last week.

Mrs. Maria Darling, who has been visiting friends in town, went to Peacham Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prouty of Burlington were the guests of F. W. Cole's family over Sunday.

E. A. Rosebrook is gaining rapidly from his injury of last week, so as to be able to be out.

Mrs. Chas. Clark and children will leave for their home in Whitman, Mass., Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Ward Slocum and daughter, Ruth, are the guests of Mrs. Carolyn Robinson for a few weeks.

Mrs. Lucinda Northrop is gaining slowly, having been ill with catarrhal bronchitis nearly six weeks.

The moving picture entertainment held in the town house last Saturday evening was poorly attended.

Neither the Congregational lawn party nor the Methodist picture show, was well attended last Friday evening.

Harvey Sulham, who is working in the shingle mill of L. A. Paquin in Peacham, was at home over Sunday.

Mrs. Helen Loveland went to Perkinsville, in the town of Weathersfield, Saturday to do nursing in a family there.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fisher of Barre and Mrs. Alice Fisher of Randolph were in town Monday by automobile, from Barre.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis C. Preston are the happy parents of another son. A fine nine pound boy came to them Thursday morning.

Last week Thursday Mrs. B. M. Shepard of Montpelier, accompanied by her sister from Burlington, were visitors at C. E. Shepard's.

Mrs. Eri Whitcomb died about half after seven o'clock Monday morning, after several days of excruciating pain. The funeral will be held Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

The ladies of the Congregationalist church will have a lawn party and ice cream social at the farm of L. D. Nutt next Wednesday evening. Every one invited to go.

B. L. Cameron and family, and Clarence Wilson and family were picnickers at Woodbury pond yesterday. Frank Northrop entertained the company with selections from his phonograph.

Several from this town attended the concert given by the Corinthian quartette last Friday evening. Plainfield certainly ought to feel proud to mother the man who sang low bass.

Mrs. Kibbey of Worcester, Mass., who has been visiting at C. E. Shepard's, went to Plainfield Monday afternoon, where she will visit for a few days. Then she will return home.

Mrs. Charlie Grace, formerly Mrs. Woodcock, daughter of the late Ira Woodcock and Susie Boyles Woodcock Gie, died Sunday in Danville of dropsy. She leaves a husband and a child one year old.

Hiram Dennis, now in St. Johnsbury well for intoxication, was tried yesterday in Groton for furnishing. Several witnesses were summoned from Pigeon Pond, whom Dennis furnished at the time of the row.

Roy Lamberton accidentally shot himself in the hand one day last week. Fortunately the hand, which was resting on the muzzle of the weapon, was only grazed, with a "light flesh wound." In this instance a "daisy" proved unsafe.

Felix Seymore of Pigeon Pond, was arrested Monday morning by constable Pike for intoxication and taken to Groton, where he was arraigned before Justice J. C. Harvey, pleaded guilty to the charge and paid a fine of $5 with costs of $11.05.

About forty-five old friends and schoolmates of Clarence Wilson attended a picnic at Woodbury pond Monday given in honor of Mr. Wilson and family who are boarding a few weeks at B. L. Cameron's. All report a most excellent time.

A large lumber team belonging to George Drew and driven by George Gill, became frightened at an automobile Saturday morning. The horses ran, throwing Mr. Gill from the wagon, fracturing one ankle. It will undoubtedly be some time before he will be able to work.

The two Russian Jews from Montpelier, Abram Goule and Israel Baberone by name, who attempted theft from the ruins of the Bancroft house, were run down by the constable of this town at 6 o'clock Wednesday. They were glad to settle with the officer and promptly paid the costs.

Forest Walker fractured his right hand last Wednesday morning, while unloading milk for one of the patrons. He slipped and fell in such a way as to put out of joint three of the fingers. He has revealed a huge amount of spunk, having worked every day since, in his place at the creamery.

Rev. A. J. Hough will read portions from his famous "Country Parson," and will also introduce various other witty poems, next Friday evening. All who have heard the poet, with his own productions, will surely wish to be present. All who have never had that privilege, should not miss this opportunity.

While en route for the Corinthian concert, the horse driven by C. E. Shepard, stepped on a rolling stone, and fell, throwing Mr. Shepard's daughter, Mrs. Lena Bliss to the ground, badly spraining the ligaments of the right ankle. The horse was uninjured and wagon not damaged. Mrs. Bliss is suffering badly, but hopes to be out in a few weeks.

Rev. A. J. Hough of Groton will give a reading of his own productions at the M. E. church, next Friday evening, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Hough will be assisted by the choir in chorus and solo work. The subject will be announced later. The ladies will furnish cake and ice cream from 5 o'clock till 8 and after the entertainment, at the popular prices. Come one and all. You are warranted a genuine treat.

Said JACK, "My Stocking's good as new,

The JACK AND JILL kind don't wear through."

For Boys and Girls a two-ply Hose,

Reinforced knees, heels and toes,

15c Per Pair or Two Pairs For 25c.

If you want a Hose as good as some 25c Hose try Jack and Jill. Now Jack and Jill Hose are responsible for a Hose sale, for we have been looking for a better Boys' and Girls' Hose to retail for 15c per pair or two pairs for 25c than we have had and have found it in Jack and Jill, consequently the number we have been selling for 15c goes on our counter at 10c per pair. Wise mothers should investigate.
